Tips: How to Find the Funding Source for your Study

Click Select

- A pop-up titled Select PR_ Sponsors will appear.
- You will use this pop-up to locate the name of the funding source using either the Name or Acronym text boxes.

Name Text Box

First Try:
- Enter the first several letters of the funding source name in the Name text box and click the Find button.
- You will get a list of all funding sources that meet your search criteria. Click the radio button of the correct choice and then click OK at the bottom of the screen.

Second Try:
- If you did not find the name of your funding source, here’s another way to look for it: enter the % symbol followed by a set of letters or words that are found in the name. Then click the Find button.
- You will get a list of all funding sources that meet your search criteria. Click the radio button of the correct choice and then click OK at the bottom of the screen.

Third Try:
- If you still cannot find the name of the funding source, type “other” in the Text box and click the Find button.
- You will get Other as a choice. Click the radio button and click OK.
- You will be able to specify the funding source in item 1.1.1

Category Text Box

At this time, please use the Name or Acronym text boxes for your search.

Acronym Text Box

Please Note:
- Not all funding sources have acronyms on file. Ones that do include some of the NIH agencies.
